SUMMARY OF AMENDMENTS

Version	Description	Page number
2	Amended to, awarded for the first time in Summer 2028.	1

Introduction

The WJEC GCSE History has been approved by Qualifications Wales and is available to all centres in Wales. It will be awarded for the first time in Summer 2028, using grades A* to G.

Aims of the Guidance for Teaching

The principal aim of the Guidance for Teaching is to support teachers in the delivery of WJEC GCSE History and to offer guidance on the requirements of the qualification and the assessment process. The Guidance for Teaching is not intended as a comprehensive reference, but as support for teachers to develop stimulating and exciting courses tailored to the needs and skills of their learners. The guide offers possible classroom activities and links to useful resources (including our own, freely available digital materials and some from external sources) to provide ideas for immersive and engaging lessons.

Additional ways that WJEC can offer support:

- sample assessment materials and mark schemes
- professional learning events
- examiners' reports on each unit
- direct access to the subject officer
- free online resources
- Exam Results Analysis
- Online Examination Review.

Qualification Structure

WJEC GCSE History consists of four units. The combination of options selected for Units 1, 2 and 3 must include one medieval, one early modern and one modern unit.

In Unit 4, centres can choose to repeat a time period previously studied in Units 1, 2 or 3. However, the topics chosen for study in Unit 4 must not replicate or overlap with the content of any of the other selected units.

The qualification is unitised and does not contain tiering. There is no hierarchy to the order the units should be taught.

	Unit title	Type of Assessment	Weighting
Unit 1	An in-depth study on Welsh history	Written examination	30%
Unit 2	An in-depth study on European and/or World history	Non-examination assessment	20%
Unit 3	A study of a period in World history	Written examination	30%
Unit 4	A changing society	Non-examination assessment	20%

Assessment

Summary of Assessment – Unit 1

Unit 1: An in-depth study on Welsh history  Written examination: 1 hour  30% of qualification 60 marks
Learners will study one of the following six historical topics to undertake an in-depth study that will provide them with an insight into the development of Wales at a specific point in time. Medieval 1.1 Rhys ap Gruffudd, Prince of Deheubarth c. 1132–1197  1.2 Owain Glyndwr c. 1354–1416 Early Modern 1.3 Wales and the early Tudors c.1485–c.1547  1.4 Wales in the era of the Civil War c.1603–c.1660 Modern 1.5 Rebellions and Protest in Wales, c.1831–c.1892  1.6 Wales in the early to mid-twentieth century, c.1914–c.1959 Each option will be assessed by compulsory questions. These will focus on historical knowledge of the topic, second order historical concepts and the analysis and evaluation of historical sources and interpretations.

Unit 1 Assessment objectives and weightings

AO1	Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the features and characteristics of the period studied	10%
AO2	Apply knowledge and understanding to historical concepts such as cause and consequence, continuity and change, similarity and difference, and significance	10%
AO3	Analyse, evaluate, or make judgements on source material, historical interpretations and historical debates, synthesising these strands where appropriate	10%

Overview of Unit 1 Modern Option 1.6: Wales in the early to mid-twentieth century, c.1914 – c.1959

An in-depth study on Welsh history (30% of the qualification)

The purpose of Unit 1 is to provide an insight into the development of Wales at a specific point in time. The aim of this option is to develop learner understanding of how the lives of people in Wales changed across the period from c.1914 to c.1959.

Time period	Option
Modern	1.6	Wales in the early to mid-twentieth century, c.1914–c.1959
	1.6.1	The impact of the First World War and its aftermath on Welsh society
	1.6.2	Life in Wales during the Depression
	1.6.3	Wales in the Second World War
	1.6.4	Political developments in Wales by the 1950s
	1.6.5	Developments in Welsh society by the 1950s

Scheme of Learning for Option 1.6 Modern: Wales in the early to mid-twentieth century, c.1914 – c.1959

This scheme of learning is provided as an illustrative example. It is designed to offer structure and inspiration but allows for adaptation to meet the unique needs, preferences, and dynamics of individual classes. Teachers are encouraged to modify elements as needed to align with their students' abilities and learning goals.

For each section of content in this unit, WJEC is also providing blended learning resources and knowledge organisers. These can be found on: <https://resources.wjec.co.uk/>

1.6 Background: Wales at the start of the twentieth century (Each option begins with a background section. These sections are intended to provide learners with necessary context in order to access the historical topic. Learners will not be directly assessed on the content of the background sections ).
Learners should be aware of:	Knowledge	Activities and Outcomes	Resources	Suggested timing (hours)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>the importance of industry to the economy of Wales at the start of the twentieth century, including coal mining and the steel industry.</li> </ul>	The different industries in Wales and their impact on individuals and society at large at the start of the 20th century.	Activity: Look at the map of the coal fields of England and Wales, and in small groups, ask the learners to find on the map: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>areas with exposed coalfields</li> <li>areas with concealed coalfields (proved)</li> <li>areas with concealed coalfields (partly proved or probably present)</li> <li>areas containing workable coal and then discuss where these areas are in Wales and England.</li> </ul> Looks at slides 2 to 6 of the Iron and Coal in Wales slideshow and respond to questions drawn from the material.	Map(s): Map of the coalfields of England and Wales issued by the Geological Survey - Gallica Iron and coal in Wales Website(s): Wales, Britain and the World	1.5 hours

		For example: When were iron and coal the main industries in Wales? Why were towns such as Merthyr and Tredegar significant? How many people lived in Merthyr by 1851? Outcome: Learners can demonstrate an understanding of the localities of industry in Wales and their impact on demographic change. Advanced activity: Using the data in the Wales, Britain and the World e-book (slides 16-21), develop a diagram that explains the main changes in Wales by 1913. Advanced outcome: Learners can demonstrate an in-depth understanding of demographic change in Wales during the C19th, and the reasons for it.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>influences on the changing lives of the people of Wales at the start of the twentieth century, including the campaign for women's suffrage and the impact of migration.</li> </ul>	The changing social make up of Wales at the beginning of the 20th century. The aims and tactics of the various women's suffrage groups.	Activity: Watch the video on The Women's Suffrage Movement in Wales website and identify the following groups and how they campaigned, giving examples: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>NUWSS</li> <li>WSPU</li> <li>WFL</li> </ul> In groups, discuss which group was most influential and explain why.	Website(s): The Women's Suffrage Movement in Wales Migration to the South Wales coalfield	1.5 hours

Learning Experiences

Learners should be encouraged to consider the following learning experiences and skills to further develop their understanding, appreciation and awareness of the subject content. Information in the table below provides opportunities for teachers to integrate the learning experiences into delivery.

Learning Experience	Exemplification of Learning Experience
participate in educational visits in person or digitally	Amgueddfa Cymru digital or online covers all topics, National Library of Wales covers all topics Cardiff Story covers industry and the diversity in Cardiff, also Cardiff Blitz.
develop empathy, tolerance, compassion and curiosity through studying different historical contexts	Learners have the opportunity to develop empathy and compassion by studying the plurality of Wales and how it has developed as a society over time.
engage in collaborative working	There are opportunities to work collaboratively in group and class discussions as well as complete group work e.g. Considering the impact of a changing Wales on society, consider the impact of tourism on Wales

Opportunities for embedding elements of the Curriculum for Wales

Curriculum for Wales Strands
Cross-cutting Themes
Local, National & International Contexts	Unit 1 provides centres with six different historical topics relating to the history of a range of areas within Wales, allowing local or national contexts to be explored with learners. Option 1.6 Modern: Wales in the early to mid-twentieth century, c.1914–c.1959 allows centres and learners to explore examples from across Wales, focusing on language, politics, immigration, sport and leisure etc. This unit allows learners to explore Wales and how its place in the wider world developed over time. It considers how it moved from a British society during World War One to developing more of its own unique identity by the 1950s.
Relationships and Sexuality Education	Learners have the opportunity to consider the impact of the relationships between the US GIs and the local people of Wales. They can also consider the development of women and women's rights over the time period.
Human Rights Education and Diversity	Learners have the opportunity to consider the perspectives of many people in Welsh society including those of the immigrant population and their experiences. It considers the challenges faced by Wales as it strived to develop its own identity via nationalism and the incorporation of Y Ddraig Goch onto the flag.
Careers and Work-Related Experiences	Learners have the opportunity to explore the changing landscape of Welsh industry at the start of the twentieth century, as well as the changing role of women in the workplace during the Second World War.

Cross-curricular Skills – Literacy

There are many opportunities to include Literacy in GCSE History. These opportunities include the analysis of source material, extended writing opportunities, vocabulary development, debating and discussion. These opportunities are important to learners because they will develop cross-curricular skills which underpin the four purposes of the Curriculum for Wales, as well as communication skills which can be used across subjects and prepare them for future education or employment.

Below are some examples of how Literacy can be embedded into teaching and learning for GCSE History.

Listening	Learners will have the opportunity to assess the accuracy and reliability of source material and share views through discussion and verbal questioning techniques when being taught the specification content. Examples <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Learners are encouraged to debate and respond to the views of others.</li> <li>● Learners will have opportunities to listen to podcasts and recordings in order to develop their vocabulary and listening skills.</li> <li>● Use of oral history and interviews develop listening skills and the ability to respond to others appropriately.</li> <li>● Learners have the opportunity to share and respond to peer presentations.</li> </ul>
Reading	Learners will have the opportunity to read contemporary source material as well as a variety of historical interpretations, before critically evaluating the sources, analysing their content, and comparing and contrasting sources focusing on the interpretation they give on events. Examples <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Learners can use a range of reading techniques such as skimming and scanning or reading for a purpose.</li> <li>● Reading extracts from a wide range of sources such as speeches, articles, diary extracts, historians and newspapers.</li> <li>● Comparing and contrasting the content of historical sources.</li> <li>● Assessing the reliability and accuracy of the text to develop the skill of critical reading.</li> </ul>
Speaking	Learners will have the opportunity to develop their understanding of viewpoints and content through debate, discussion, presentations and group work. Examples <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Debating the most important reason why an event happened</li> </ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Asking questions for clarification and development of understanding.</li><li>• Learners can develop speaking skills through group and pair work.</li></ul>
Writing	Learners will have the opportunity to use a range of subject-specific vocabulary, idiomatic language and be able to present their work digitally. They will also have opportunities to reflect on the structure and content of their writing. Examples <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Role modelling of answers through teacher, peer and self-assessment activities.</li><li>• Learners have the opportunity to use a wide range of writing styles such as formal, informal and first person.</li></ul>

Cross-curricular Skills – Numeracy

There are many opportunities to include Numeracy in GCSE History, for example analysing population change, interpreting statistics in primary and secondary sources, analysing graphs and timelines and engaging with concepts such as chronological awareness. These opportunities are important to learners because it allows them to contextualise events and quantify change. Learners can draw evidence-based conclusions based on statistics and numerical data.

Below are some examples of how Numeracy can be embedded into teaching and learning for GCSE History.

Learning about geometry helps us understand shape, space and position and learning about measurement helps us quantify in the real world	Learners will have opportunities to analyse maps in order to understand the growth and development of empires or the geographical representation of wars. Examples <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Learners can analyse maps, structures and artifacts.</li> <li>• Learners can then analyse land division and urban planning.</li> <li>• There are opportunities to analyse military strategies and fortifications.</li> </ul>
Learning that statistics represent data, and that probability models chance, help us make informed inferences and decisions	Learners will have the opportunities to examine or interpret data and graphs through source analysis. Examples <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Learners can analyse data to draw conclusions on statistics such as population growth, costs and land expansion.</li> <li>• Secondary material such as graphs and charts can be interpreted.</li> <li>• There are opportunities for learners to create their own numerical representations of data gathered.</li> </ul>

Cross-curricular Skills – Digital Competence

There are many opportunities to include Digital Competence in GCSE History. Learners can make use of digital technology to access a broad range of historical sources and to undertake research of a historical topic. Learners will also have the opportunity to develop their digital skills in preparing and completing their non-examination assessments. These opportunities will allow learners to develop cross-curricular skills which underpin the four purposes of the curriculum, as well as allowing further access to historical information while fostering current and future critical thinking and ethical awareness.

Below are some examples of how Digital Competence can be embedded into teaching and learning for GCSE History.

Citizenship	Learners will develop an understanding of the importance of attributions, including the use of resources in digital formats such as e-books and online articles. Learners will be required to address attributions when analysing items for their historical enquiry and to think critically about the authors of digital evidence. Example Learners should be made aware of copyright and plagiarism when looking at historical evidence and when developing and presenting their own arguments in relation to a topic.
Interacting and Collaborating	Learners can work collaboratively (digitally) on tasks in preparation for the exam. These could include peer assessment, responding to teacher feedback or work creation. Example In groups, learners could research and present a topic to introduce an area of study.
Producing	Learners have opportunities to research a variety of sources digitally. Example <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Use of national and international archives to find source materials that link to the area of study.</li> </ul>

Integral Skills
Creativity and Innovation	There are many opportunities to include Creativity and Innovation in GCSE History. These opportunities are important to learners to become more engaged in lessons and enjoy learning through stimulating tasks. Deeper understanding is developed through the encouragement for learners to take an active role in their learning. Examples <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Learners will demonstrate creativity when developing responses, expressing their opinions about relevant historical issues and critically evaluating sources and evidence within assessments.</li> <li>• Learners have opportunities to be creative and innovative when presenting information and findings.</li> </ul>
Critical Thinking and Problem Solving	There are many opportunities to include Critical Thinking and Problem Solving in GCSE History. These opportunities are important to learners because they develop the ability to think analytically, and to collect, reflect and critically evaluate evidence in order to make informed judgements on a range of topics. This skill can be applied to real-life scenarios. Examples <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Learners will have opportunities to ask meaningful questions of source material and historical interpretations, as well as to evaluate them as part of their process of developing relevant critical arguments.</li> <li>• Learners will develop their ability to see issues from multiple viewpoints.</li> <li>• Studying continuity and change over time allows learners to develop their problem-solving skills that can be applied in their future lives.</li> <li>• Learners will evaluate sources and historical interpretations in terms of reliability, bias and purpose.</li> <li>• Critical thinking and problem solving encourages independent learning and promotes the ability to come to reasoned and informed decisions in other aspects of life such as further education or work.</li> </ul>
Planning and Organisation	There are many opportunities to include Planning and Organisation in GCSE History. These opportunities are important to Learners because these integral skills allow Learners to engage with the past, analyse information and communicate their findings which allow Learners to enhance their academic understanding and prepare them to apply historical knowledge in modern contexts. Below are some examples of how Planning and Organisation can be embedded into teaching and learning of GCSE History. Example

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Learners will have opportunities to plan and then complete their response to an enquiry question.</li> </ul>
Personal Effectiveness	There are many opportunities to include Personal Effectiveness in GCSE History. These opportunities are important to learners because it develops resilience and the ability to work effectively. This helps to develop learners' time management skills and the ability to prioritise tasks, enhancing learners' ability to become adaptable individuals. Examples <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Learning about potentially sensitive topics will allow learners to develop their emotional intelligence and historical awareness.</li> <li>Opportunities for peer, self and teacher assessment encourage learners to develop effective strategies to improve their work.</li> <li>Collaborating on a research task or presentation.</li> <li>Developing resilience through the revision and remodelling of answers.</li> <li>There are opportunities for learners to express their opinions about relevant historical issues, contemporary source materials and historical interpretations.</li> </ul>
