

Meet the RSO - Emma Vincent

My career started working within the tourism and business sectors. I went on to qualify as a lecturer in 1994.

I delivered vocational qualifications at Gower College Swansea (formerly Swansea College) for 17 years, utilising experiences I had gained in previous roles. I held a number of positions at the college, including Assistant Director of Faculty, Curriculum Team Leader and Welsh Baccalaureate Coordinator.

Since joining WJEC in 2011, I have seen the Welsh Baccalaureate qualification develop from its original concept to a robust, exciting qualification that targets and develops the skills young people need.

In my current role at WJEC, I support all the Further Education Colleges across Wales and I am passionate about ensuring that although colleges can be very large institutions, each learner has the same Skills Challenge Certificate experience.

My favourite place - no clues

Two of my children have undertaken the revised Welsh Baccalaureate qualification, and I can honestly say that I can see the difference that developing skills through the Skills Challenge Certificate Qualification has had on them personally - most importantly planning and organising! One of my 3 boys has just set off to Plymouth University to study medicine, and the Skills Challenge Certificate formed part of his entry requirements.
